

f Did you know that the Luxembourg government is happy to reimburse 10% of your training costs?

f Does it surprise you that you will probably spend two weeks locked in an office filling in the forms if you want to claim this cash back?

f But did you know that fast can help you, by completing and filing this information for you?

f Do you realise how much money this could save you?

The INFPC (the Institut National pour le développement de la Formation Professionnelle Continue) is a Luxembourg organisation that is financed by the government, whose job it is to promote and facilitate training in the Grand Duchy. Part of this function is to distribute funding to subsidise training paid for by private companies.

The application for this funding is unsurprisingly, highly complex.

Help is at hand! For a fraction of your reimbursement, fast will:

- gather the required information
- complete the relevant INFPC form
- file the application
- support the application to its conclusion
